

GE Digital Coaching Training

Photo Courtesy of Anne Poindexter

Lockheed Martin Leadership Institute members Anne Poindexter (Cohort 6) and Chris Smitherman (Cohort 5) were featured panelists at a People Leadership training course at GE Digital in Cincinnati on July 11, 2018. Anne and Chris were asked to provide insight into the value of the Coaching Mindset as well as give advice on applying coaching strategies within leadership positions. This opportunity directly followed the year-long project completed by Cohort 6 on the topic of Coaching. Anne and Chris were also able to act as stand-in coachees during the afternoon training session following the panel discussion over the application of coaching and coaching principles in leadership and management roles. This training was led by Ann M. Johnson, Digital Learning Transformation Leader at GE Digital (pictured center).

LOCKHEED MARTIN

Leadership Institute

College of Engineering and Computing